About

I'm a Sophomore at Michigan State University studying Information Science, projected to graduate in December 2024. I currently have an Associates of General Studies, received from Macomb Community College under an academic concentration towards Psychology. I have experience with design concepts, and software such as Figma and Miro, with additional familiarity of the programming language Python. With this skill set, I'm working towards developing and expanding my portfolio to reflect my individuality and expertise as a designer.
